$4 Million Down $12 Million To Go And 68 Articles

By Robert E. Finneran
Managing Editor

Andover voters, numbering 648, viewed a reconciled board of selectmen and finance committee at the opening session of town meeting Monday night and approved $4,464,505 of a $16,176,750 budget for the coming fiscal year before adjourning to next Monday night.

Approved were 71 items in a 100 item budget with only two differences of opinion - mosquito control and a tape recorder for the police - between the selectmen and FinCom settled in favor of the town's policy making board.

Also, the voters approved granting bonding of $500,000 to pay deferred teacher salaries, if the need arises. This was granted in a special town meeting within the annual meeting.

Cruising on a course which could lead to a continuation of the $54 per thousand tax rate, voters approved revised figures in the budget as presented by the selectmen.

Meetings between the selectmen and FinCom up to the start of the session at 7:30 Monday, resulted in both boards agreeing to the figures to be presented. The two boards had been at odds on the monetary items, and remain so on a few items still to be acted upon.

Still to be acted upon when the meeting resumes next Monday night at Memorial Auditorium are the remaining budget items, including an $8,341,795 school budget, and the 68 remaining articles in the warrant which more or less assures at least two more nights before the 1974 session can be completed.

The two differences of opinion on budget considerations between the FinCom and the selectmen were in the area of the mosquito control program at a cost of $17,000 and in the recorder for the police department at $7,000.

$30,260 More

Coupled with the other differences the voters supported the selectmen to a tune of $30,260 above the FinCom recommendations.

Chairman Milton Greenberg of the selectmen addressed the session at the outset, explaining the philosophy of his board on the non-school portion of the budget.

He traced the reviews made by the board of the town manager's budget presentation which resulted in reductions totalling $250,000.

"Once our overall objective was achieved, namely, a roughly 'hold-the-line' tax rate we felt and still believe for the long term viability of Andover's town manager form of government that recommendations of details is his responsibility. It is the sincere wish of your board of selectmen and the town manager

The Drawing Boards Are Busy As H-P Preps Andover Address

The drawing boards are busy at Hewlett-Packard as site and plant design work for the new Andover facility progresses on target, just a year after an Andover town meeting provided the green light for the medical electronics firm.

Bert Dole, general manager for H-P, who will be in charge of the Andover operations, reported Wednesday that architects are currently about in the middle of design work for the buildings which will be placed on the West Andover site.

Site plans have been completed and approved, Dole reports, and the building design process is expected to be completed this summer.

Actual construction work could begin this summer, the general manager reports, with completion expected by 1976.

The firm has reached the point of having architect's renderings of their plans and models of their buildings ready.

The first of seven buildings planned for the former Shattuck Farm property, will be 160,000 square feet and employ about 350 people currently working at the H-P Waltham facility.

The company will be hiring people from the Greater Lawrence area when it opens and projects an employment buildup to 800 in its first building.

Phase two of the overall plan will follow with two additional buildings anticipated to be ready for occupancy by 1979-'80. The medical electronics firm and Arkwright/Boston Insurance company projected their planning to the town a year ago, at which time Andover was asked to provide a trunk sewer line to the West Andover area.

The sewer line had been in the planning stage for some time and additional funds were needed to provide the necessary utility.

In the process of discussion, conservation land was granted the town along the Merrimack to provide a continuing trail system.

The consulting firm of Camp, Dresser and McKee is working on the surveying and final planning for the construction of the trunk sewer which will tie in with the Lawrence system.

The engineering work is coinciding with H-P's development and building plans.

Both H-P officials and Arkwright/Boston representatives have been before the planning board in recent weeks

Sailing Proposal Faces Rough Water

Response to a proposal to permit sailing on Haggetts pond has been good on the part of the public but the plan may be in for choppy waters when it gets before official boards for action.

David Pratt of 1 Tobey Lane, and Andover High school senior and Nancy Demrow, 11 Linda Road, have been working on obtaining signatures on petitions to appeal to the town fathers to permit the use of up to 16 foot sailboats on the pond.

But, Public Works Director Robert E. McQuade, whose responsibilities include maintenance of the town's main reservoir and public drinking water supply is definitely opposed to the idea.

Pratt has been a sailing enthusiast for the past few years and looks upon the use of Haggetts as an additional part of the town's recreation facilities.

He has already obtained 100 names of persons interested in the idea and obtained a good response from standing at Memorial Hall library one night presenting his proposal to residents.

He feels the 16 foot maximum craft would not harm the town's water supply and emphasizes that sailing activities would be regulated to insure against not only accidents but the possibility of people falling into the pond.

He has asked residents in support of the idea to contact either himself or Nancy Demrow.

One of the items which is delaying an official request for

Garden Land To Be Made Available

Families or individuals wishing to garden this summer who do not have land to do so, may use conservation commission land in West Andover for this purpose.

The commission has set aside land next to Deer Jump Reservation for plots to be planned and plowed for a modest sum if sufficient interest is shown.

Persons interested should contact Mary and Everett Gendler, 227 Haggetts Pond Road, Andover.

There will be an organizational meeting called in a few weeks. In order to make the program a success, enthusiasm, support and co-operative effort will be needed.

Chosen For State Honors

By Linda S. Corbett

A local nurse-to-be and mother of six, has been named Student Nurse of Massachusetts.

Mrs. Edward Conway of North Andover, who recently was chosen Student Nurse of the Year at Lawrence General Hospital, received the state title at a conference of the Massachusetts Senate of Student Nurses in Wakefield last Thursday.

Now Liz is eligible to compete for the national title and the winner will be announced at a nursing convention in Salt Lake City, April 24-25.

Liz, who will receive her nursing diploma in June, had taken a nursing course in high school, and always had it in the back of her mind until she began the Merrimack-Lawrence General course in 1971, when her youngest, Christopher, was in kindergarten.

The other helpers, to whom she gives much of the credit for helping on the home front while she was at school, are Maureen, 10, and Shawn, 11, who are in Bradstreet School with Chris, who is now 7; Michael, 12, in Middle School; Eddie, 16, a sophomore at North Andover High; and Patricia, 19, who works for Liberty Mutual in Andover.

Her husband Ed, a retired Marine recruiter who now heads maintenance at Merrimack College, helps out with the cooking (he was also a Navy cook), and her mother, Mrs. Grace Dupuis of South Lawrence, also lends a hand.

In addition to her studies, Liz also works Saturdays as an operating room technician at The General, and hopes for OR duty upon graduation.

A faculty committee had narrowed the student nurse field at The General to five for the "home" honor, and Liz was then elected by her fellow students.

That made her eligible for the state-wide contest, for which she also had to write an essay on the "Essence of a Good Nurse."

"When I started nurses training," she said, "I thought that all nurses were good. But then you find out there is such a thing as a really good one."

She said that a couple of her instructors, who have had a great positive influence on her, fall into that category.

Also in her essay, Liz spoke of the Spanish-speaking community in the Lawrence area, and how a good nurse should use all available resources for communication including interpreters and learning some of the language herself.

"How else," she asks, "can you tell if someone has pain and where, or wants something to eat or drink?"

Liz said she expected that her essay would be sent along with the other qualifications to the national contest.

Quannapowitt Players To Perform

The Quannapowitt Players, Inc. of Reading will present a one-act play "Please No Flowers" at the April meeting of the Andover Community Theatre.

They are a very active and accomplished group and have been in existence many years. The play will be presented in the auditorium at West Elementary School on April 10 at 8 p.m. The public is invited to come free of charge.

Following the entertainment there will be the general business meeting of ACT in the Faculty Room.

There are several important items on the agenda for the meeting. The first being the presentation of a slate of officers for the elections in May. Besides those names presented, nominations will also be taken from the floor.

Tryouts will be held by Ed Stoddard who will be directing a reading and a one-act play this spring.

The reading will be presented in May as part of a series of entertainments held by The Lawrence Eagle-Tribune from May 5 thru May 12.

A new look at miracles

About two thousand years ago, lepers, life-time cripples, and the insane were healed by Christ Jesus and many of his followers.

But somehow their accomplishments have not become a natural way of life for most people, who regard them as strictly a phenomena of the past.

The fact is, though, that instances of healing and regeneration through enlightened people are going on today. Every day.

You can hear some outstanding examples - and how they were brought about - in a talk by

To Enforce Disposal Regulations

THE TOWNSMAN, APRIL 4, 1974

The Andover Board of Health will enforce regulations covering the disposal of solid waste as they pertain to disposal of construction and lot clearing debris.

Dr. Robert A. Walsh, chairman, reports that all contractors working in the community will have to dispose of construction waste at dump facilities approved by the state health department.

The two areas so approved are Shaffer's Dump in Billerica and the town dump on Hunt Road in Amesbury.

The regulations will be enforceable within 90 days, the time period being granted to allow contractors to adjust and meet the new rules.

Health Agent Neil MacDowell reports that some contractors in town have been disposing of wastes on lots, or burying debris on lots near the construction area.

In essence the builders, in some cases, have been creating mini-dumps within the subdivisions or construction area, a practice which will be stopped.

Health Agent Neil MacDowell reports that some contractors in town have been disposing of wastes on lots, or burying debris on lots near the construction area.

The developers have also made offers to purchase residential property adjacent to the industrial site.

General Manager Dole states that the company's timetable for development is on schedule.

Andover is ready to move forward with the utility line construction.

The engineering work is completed and plans ready to be placed out to bid.

Actual construction work is dependent on decisions to be made by Hewlett-Packard and the board of selectmen.

The agreement approved by town meeting provides for the selectmen to authorize the bonding and construction work for the new plant, as soon as Hewlett-Packard affirms their construction commitment.

Since Andover gave its approval a year ago to the new industrial firm, both local and corporate officials have been busy finalizing their plans. There is every indication the drawing boards have not been idle and that substantive indications of Hewlett-Packard becoming an Andover neighbor are just around the corner.

Town Meeting

that moderating influences will temper any erosion of this budget by special interest groups even though such effort may be well intentioned," Greenberg said.

He went on to praise the Finance Committee for its extended review of the budget noting, their recommendations are slightly below that of the selectmen. There was some give and take between all parties and we and they are essentially in agreement after many meetings.

Town Manager J. Maynard Austin spoke of the need for the restoration of the $7,000 in the police department expense account to provide for the tape recorder.

Austin explained that he felt it necessary to adequately record the calls to the department, to provide for such things as checking on requests, timing of responses to calls for assistance, etc.

The department had the use of a recorder for a time, but it has since broken. He said that often calls come from persons excited and information can be checked to verify addresses or other pertinent information.

He expressed the need for the instrument as a part of modern police work and the voters approved.

Mosquitoes

There was the anticipated discussion of the mosquito control item, with debate not lasting too long, and a continuance of the program initiated at the October town meeting of 1972.

Atty. John C. Doherty presenting the Finance Committee opposition to the expenditure explained that there was little to measure the effectiveness of such a program.

Doherty said that surrounding communities do not have similar programs and that mosquitoes drift into Andover.

He also indicated that there was sufficient funds remaining in the mosquito control account from the past year to continue the program.

Selectman Alan French, while sympathetic to the town meeting desire for such a program, argued in a similar vein to the FinCom's Doherty.

Selectman Mrs. Janet Lake said she felt the town had issued a mandate in previous town meetings for such a program and that it should be continued. The additional funds will provide for larvaciding this spring and spraying through the summer when necessary.

The voters concurred and provided the funds.

A new position provided for brought some discussion before winning approval.

New Post

An account of $12,468 was provided for inspection services, a position, Town Manager Austin declared, "one of the most important items you will act upon this year."

Austin explained that the inspection service is to provide a safeguard for the town in reviewing all subdivisions in process in the town. There are now 21 approved subdivisions in the town and constant inspection is necessary to insure that roads and utilities are installed properly, he said.

Atty. Vincent Stulgis said that he felt the position unnecessary since the planning board could order a bond to insure proper completion.

DPW Director McQuade said that a bond would not cover the matter, and that inspection is necessary before improvement is made.

The question of sewer use charges for the town was again questioned. A resident pointed out that some taxpayers in the community are being assessed for sewer costs when not provided with such service.

When Chairman Greenberg said the selectmen would be focussing on this matter after town meeting, the resident responded that it was the third time such a promise had been made and wanted some assurance, event to having the moderator appoint a special committee.

DPW Director McQuade said the matter has been discussed with the board during the past year, but no decisions made since the Environmental Protection Agency has just within the past few weeks issued guidelines.

Recycling

Edward Cole had some questions concerning the recycling program, when the adoption of the sanitation and waste disposal budget was presented.

Cole quoted some figures on the recycling program and indicated that only the collection of paper was paying its way, as opposed to some information which would lead to the belief that the town was realizing a profit.

In response to his pointing out that the selectmen had promised a review of the program, Selectman Alan French said that indeed the board would be reviewing the matter. French expressed dismay at the decrease in participation in the recycling program in recent months.

He felt the program needed time to prove itself, the value going beyond a simple dollars and cents.

Director McQuade affirmed that the program was getting closer to the break-even point and said that it eventually will prove a tremendous saving to the town.

The account was approved in the amount of $390,633, representing a full year cost of the collection services initiated by the annual town meeting last year and began in July.

Action by the state legislature may allow the town not to resort to bonding the funds to provide for the deferred teachers salaries. The payments will be due in July and August this year.

The legislative action would permit permanent deferral of the debt service item. Approval of the special town meeting item in no way commits the town to bonding the amount.

If town meeting continues in the docile, approving manner shown Monday night when budget action resumes next Monday, the town's budget for the fiscal year will be $16,176,756.

CONTEMPLATIVE. Chairman Francis Griggs, right, of the school committee ponders some budget items, with pencil ready for action and John Wragg likewise attentive to discussion on the stage at Monday night's session of town meeting.

of $5,197,000, equal to 30 cents per share for the first two months of 1974 compared to $8,399,000 and 53 cents per share last year, on 1,250,000 fewer shares. The decline in earnings was attributable to the nationwide efforts to conserve energy, warmer than normal weather, spiraling inflationary costs and, most particularly, the one month lag in recovering fuel costs.

Tuition At Merrimack To Remain The Same

Risking a deficit situation for the first time since its founding in 1947, Merrimack College President, Very Rev. John R. Aherne, O.S.A. has announced that parents and students of the North Andover college would not face a tuition increase for the next academic year.

"There will be no tuition increase for the 1974-75 academic year," promised the outspoken Merrimack president. "Although mounting costs justify an increase, Merrimack will attempt to assist all the families it serves by not passing on increased burdens to the consumer. Enough is enough," he chided.

Father Aherne said the move is symbolic and "hopefully it will be recognized by decision makers in all walks of life as a small sacrifice to take some pressure off America's overburdened middle-class families."

He said that a tuition increase this year on top of over-inflated family budgets would tear at the heart of too many.

Father Aherne said that he has asked college personnel to continue the austerity program initiated one year ago. Pointing to its success, Aherne noted, that although national estimates show that college costs will rise by 9.4 per cent next year, Merrimack has been able to hold the line at 3.3 per cent. Although there has been no cut in academic services, Father Aherne noted that many sacrifices have been made by college personnel. Most have accepted minimum salary increases and all offices have participated in the ongoing austerity program.

The Merrimack president said that a modest increase of $100 will face resident students next year and that increased costs in other areas will be met, hopefully, through expanded fundraising activities, including a voluntary parents fund drive.

Bowdoin Night

Bowdoin College alumni and their families, faculty members, students and friends will gather at Symphony Hall in Boston May 9 for the 27 annual "Bowdoin Night at the Pops". The program will feature the Boston Pops Orchestra, under the direction of Arthur Fiedler, and an appearance by the Bowdoin Meddiebumpsters.

"Bowdoin Night at the Pops" is sponsored by the Bowdoin Club of Boston.

Named General Manager At Hewlett-Packard

Lewis E. Platt

Dean O. Morton, vice president of Hewlett-Packard Company in charge of medical electronics products, announced today that Lewis E. Platt will become General Manager of the Waltham Operations on April 1. In this new position, Platt will be responsible for research and development, marketing and manufacturing of patient monitoring systems, respiratory care instruments, and consumables products. HP's Waltham Operations, to be under Platt's direction, employs more than 700 people.

Platt joined Hewlett-Packard eight years ago as a manufacturing engineer in the Waltham plant. He became Plant Engineer in October of 1966 and subsequently held positions as Industrial Products Marketing Manager, Manufacturing Engineering Manager and most recently, Division Research and Development Manager.

A Binghamton, New York native, Platt received his undergraduate education at Cornell University (1964) and earned his M.B.A. from the Wharton Graduate School of the University of Pennsylvania in 1966. He is a member of the Institute of Electrical and Electronic Engineers, and the Association for the Advancement of Medical Instrumentation. He resides in Sudbury, with his wife and two children.

In naming Platt to the position, Morton commented on the effect of significant growth projections for HP medical electronic instrumentation on planning for both the Waltham facility and a new site being developed by HP in Andover. "Although the first Andover building will not be ready for about two years, our Andover Operations group has been a fully functioning organization of 350 people for nearly one year, under General Manager Burton A. Dole, Jr. They presently occupy quarters close to the Waltham plant. By this June, we expect our Waltham plant addition will be completed, effectively more than doubling our space here. The organizational changes we're now making are an integral part of this growth," Morton continued, "to allow us to give more management attention to our business, make better resource allocation decisions, and provide a framework for continued development of all our people."

Jankaukas To Address Valley Group

Stephen Jankaukas, chairman of Andover's Special Education department, will be the featured speaker at the 8 p.m. Monday, April 11 meeting of the Merrimack Valley Association for Children with Learning Disabilities. His talk will be on "Hyperactivity, Emotional Disturbances, and Learning Disabilities." It will bring out practical steps that parents can take to assist their children in being more adaptable to their own and their families' needs. He will talk about the kinds of rewards that parents, and of course teachers, can offer to induce self improvement by the child and with equally important effects on the parent or teacher who is trying to motivate the child.

Steve plans to have the talk on an open discussion basis so that the audience will hear the "real" problems that are "actually" happening today, and so that the audience will hear success stories from those teachers and parents who have had some success.

All the free regular meetings of non-profit MVACLD have been held at the Ballard Vale United Church, Clark Road at Hall Avenue, Andover, on the second Monday of every month. The association is attempting to service the public at large and the communities of Lawrence, Methuen, Andover and North Andover in particular. The association is also interested in helping set up new chapters in other towns. Following the regular discussion period there will be coffee and refreshments and an opportunity for individuals to talk with the other parents and teachers attending.

The Association, and its officers, believes many parents will need help in assessing their opportunities under the new Chapter 766 law and the organization is ready to assist individual parents in getting help.

Directors Elected By Auto Club

The Automobile Club of Merrimack Valley held its 51st Annual Meeting recently at the Merrimack Valley Motor Inn.

The following were elected for a three-year term to the Board of Directors: William H. Heath, Haverhill; John F. Reilly, Jr., Lowell; Irving E. Rogers, Sr., Andover; Kenneth F. Romprey, Salem, N.H.

In making his annual report, David J. Christensen, Executive Vice President, stated that the Club grew to 1,342 members during 1973 and at the close of the year had a total membership of 46,281 members. He noted that the Merrimack Valley Club has the heaviest penetration of members to registered cars for our area compared to any other AAA club in the northeastern part of the country.

The effects of the emergency crisis were discussed at length by the officers and directors and Mr. Christensen stated that the Club was now providing new service to its members as well as all motorists by giving current availability-of-fuel information to the news media and to members because it was felt that this was a most valuable service at this time.

Alternatives to using the automobile for summer vacations were reviewed and the Club has arranged special motor coach tours as a suggested alternative to the family automobile being used for a vacation this summer.

The Club handled 46,802 requests for emergency road service during 1973, an increase of 7,623 calls over 1972. It was noted in that department that the cooperation of the contract stations was more important now than ever with many garages closing evenings, Sundays and holidays. The Club continues to provide 24-hour emergency road service to its members.

Physical Ed Topic For Bancroft

On Wednesday, April 10, there will be a PTO meeting in the Bancroft cafeteria. Both parents and children are invited to attend the meeting which will begin at 7:15 p.m.

Jack Gleason, physical education instructor for Bancroft, will open the meeting with a demonstration of the movement education approach to physical education as it is employed in the primary unit. Movement education is a problem saving approach to teaching physical education in elementary grades involving elements of time, space, force and flow. Children from the third loft will demonstrate the method.

The second half of Mr. Gleason's presentation will consist of a gymnastic demonstration by members of the Bancroft gymnastics club which is comprised of both boys and girls in the upper lofts or more specifically, grades four, five and six.

After Mr. Gleason's presentation, there will be a brief meeting of the general membership present in order that PTO officers for the coming year may be elected. The nominating committee will submit their proposed slate of officers for the PTO board of 1974-1975. Then an opportunity will be given for nominations from the floor, prior to the vote, as is required by the by-laws.

The Halls Top The Newtons

The West Parish Intermediate basketball team, champs in the Andover Church Basketball League for the fourth straight year, staged their annual Father-Son basketball game last weekend at the West Junior High gym.

At the conclusion of four "gruelling" 10-minute periods, the Hall squad had edged the Newton team, 66-60.

The winners led from the outset, jumping to a 20-14 first quarter lead and stretching it to 40-26 by halftime.

The Newtons chipped away throughout the second half, eventually closing to within 60-58 with 56 seconds left before the rally died.

Bob Hall paced the victors' streak with 12 points, while Dave Nardone also cracked twin digits by scoring 10 points.

Rick Harrison, Ed Kelley and Billy Hall pumped through 8 markers apiece. Adding 4 points each were Chris Doherty, Bruce Belbin, Mark deConstant, Jay

McLeod and Mike McDonald.

Other standouts for the winners were Todd McLeod, Scott Belbin and Alex deConstant.

The Father-son combo of Vin and Steve Doherty, respectively, powered the Newton team with 16 points apiece.

Jack Johnson stuffed 8 markers and Ted Kelley hooped 6, Gary Johnson and Jody Yameen pumped through 4 points each, while solo buckets were netted by Lloyd Belbin, Pete Newton and Steve Johnson.

Also playing well for the losers were Wayne Newton, Dick Kelley and Mark Newton.

A number of trophies were also awarded prior to the game.

Jeff Rosen was voted Most Valuable Player on the West 'A' team, while the 'B' team MVP was a three-way tie among Steve Doherty, Gary Johnson and Jody Yameen.

Rookie-of-the-Year on West Parish 'A' was Mike McDonald, and a similar award for the West 'B' team went to Bruce Belbin.

Phil Harnden was selected as the Most Improved Player, while Pete Newton earned the Sportsmanship Award and Billy Hall won the High Scorer Trophy for his 130 points and 10.8 per game average.

Dave Nardone captured the MVP Trophy for the West Parish team entered in the Lawrence JCC Biddy Basketball League.

Dads Take Annual Classic

The West Parish Senior Division Basketball team coached by Frank Monette held their annual Father and Son game with the Dads coming out on top 37-29.

The Dads, took an early first quarter lead of 8-4 on the strength of Sam Bitler's 4 points, but the Sons came back in the second quarter as Jeff Smith canned 6 points and Scott Bitler 4 to tie the score at the half 14-14. In the third quarter Pat Ketzler led the surge with 6 points for the Dads and built up a 23-17 third quarter lead. In the final quarter the Dads Fred Serley's tossed in 8 points and Becky Kenney 4 points to offset the Sons Steve Serley's 6 points and Jeff Smith's 4 points as the Dads outscored the Sons 14-12 for the victory.

For the Dads, Fred Serley was high for the game with 8 points as Pat Ketzler and Becky Kenney chipped in with 6 points each followed by Alan Paro's breakaways for 4 points and 4 points by the pivot man Sam Bitler.

Dick Heidt scooped in 3 points, and (Dandy) Don Ketzler rumbled through the lane for 2 points with Larry Smith banking in a couple from the corner of the court. For the Sons Jeff Smith was high scorer swishing 12 points as Big Scott Bitler and Steve Serley each pumped in 6 points. Chris Elliott, Tim Sweeney, and Mark Paro stuffed 2 points apiece and Mark Ketzler and Carl Wetterberg each dropped in a charity shot.

The Andover Squirts completed their regular schedule season with an 11-3-1 record. Coaches Dunn, Milne and Zussman said "We knew that they had it in them and once they get going they're hard to stop."

Andover faced off against Westford, who had previously beaten Andover 2-3 in Nashua. The Squirts wasted no time as Tim Derby got his first one at 10:51 and the entire D-line (Doherty and Dunn) combined for the first goal. In the second period it was an instant replay as Timmy Derby and his linemates hit again. Kenny Banfield took J.J. Pelegrino's pass in for Andover's third goal. Westford came alive in the third when they put the puck in the net, at 10:58. But Andover pumped in 3 more, Tom Fabiani, Chris Doherty and Doug Price each lit the lamp.

Their last game was against North Reading. Where Tom Fabiani received the teams second hat trick, and his first of the season. Brian Lincoln, right winger and Doug Price had very pretty goals as the Squirts won handily 5-1.

The Andover Squirts are now entered in Merrimack's Spring Hockey Tournament on April 11. It is a single elimination tourney.

West Parish Seniors Titlists

Coach Frank Monette's West Parish Senior Division Boys Basketball team won the Lawrence Jewish Community Center eighth grade Grammar League Playoff Championship against St. Mary's of Lawrence by the score of 49-31 recently.

Two weeks ago the West Parish Club won the seasonal championship with a 13-2 record, then topped the fourth place St. Theresa's 40-24 to meet the second place St. Mary's team in the finals.

The much taller St. Mary's team dominated play in the first quarter and led by as much as 9 points before West Parish cut the deficit to 5 points by the end of the quarter. The St. Mary's team had a 13-8 lead entering the second quarter as Coach Monette changed from a zone to a tight full court press for the rest of the game and it seemed to bother the St. Mary's team because the West Parish Club caused several turnovers and steals and outscored the St. Mary's team 23-3 in the second quarter for a 31-16 halftime lead.

In the second half West ran into foul trouble as three players fouled out and three more players were playing with four fouls on them, but West Parish battled and stayed with them in the second half for a 16-15 edge over the last two quarters for the 49-31 victory and Championship. West was called for 29 fouls during the contest.

It was a fine team victory as Steve Serley had the hot hands for West with 23 points. Bob Zwicker did a tremendous job collecting most of the rebounds against St. Mary's big men and making the quick outlet pass, while scoring 8 points. Sean Callahan made several key steals and put the West club ahead in the second quarter with 7 points and weaving through the St. Mary's press with fine dribbling control. Tim Sweeney also showed some fine ball control and dribbling tactics while tossing in 4 points. Forward Mark Paro swished in 4 key points besides playing an aggressive defensive game and tying up his much taller man on several occasions. Dave Heidt hit three clutch points in the second quarter and helped guard the tough players for the West players who were in foul trouble. Guard Chris Elliott and Forward Dave Callaghan also played an aggressive game for West. St. Mary's was led by their two big boys Caruso with 11 points and Iannio 10 points and Bresnahan 6 points. Two players missing from the West Parish squad who were ill but contributed much during the season for West were starting forward Eric Sullivan and Guard Eddie Goodman.

The West Parish boys completed a fine season as they also competed in the Andover Church Basketball League and finished second to St. Roberts (B) in a Playoff game after finishing in a three-way tie for first place. The West Parish club was rolling along in that league undefeated until they lost their starting center and starting guard with injuries and played the remaining schedule with an all 13-year-old team the youngest starting team in the league in the 13-15 year old division. The West Parish Club ended up with a (15-2) record in the J.C.C. League and a (8-2) record in the Andover Church League for a combined league record of (23-4). The boys also played many out-of-town games and had two weekend tours, one being in New Hampshire and the other being down on the Cape. The boys played a total of 46 games during the season for a (30-16) seasonal mark.

Steve Serley led the club in scoring with 378 points for a 9.9 points per game average and led in foul shots made with 76 and a 51 per cent foul shooting accuracy. Eric Sullivan was second in points scored with 361 and third in points per game with 8.8 and led the club in Field Goal percentage with 46 per cent accuracy. Bob Zwicker was third in scoring with 359 points and tied for first in points per game with 9.9 and led the club in rebounding with 288 rebounds. The West Parish club averaged 40 points a game compared to their oppositions 30 points.

Following is the team record:

Player	FG-FT-PTS
Steve Serley	151-76-378
Eric Sullivan	150-61-361
Bob Zwicker	151-57-359
Dave Heidt	57-25-139

Layoff Fails To Hamper Bantams

By Rick Harrison

The Andover Bantam 'A' traveling hockey team returned to the ice wars after a brief layoff, and the inactivity didn't seem to hurt a bit as the locals posted back-to-back shutout victories over North Reading (2-0) and Hampton, N.H. (9-0).

Andover's last previous action was a three-game series against the Oshawa Canadian Corps at Phillips Academy, which saw the visitors register a 6-4 opening win before battling Andover to 0-0 and 2-2 ties.

The latest results gave Coach Dick Neal's team an overall seasonal record of 16-8-4.

North Reading

Andover started slow against North Reading in their match at Merrimack College, but after a scoreless first period the locals received second stanza goals from linemates Lee Apgar and John Lyons just 18 seconds apart.

Apgar opened the offense with the game-winner at 7:43, taking a pass from defenseman Mike Cullinan and depositing a 10-footer behind the North Reading netminder.

John Lyons followed with his fifth goal a mere 18 seconds after the ensuing center-ice faceoff. Apgar garnered the lone assist, setting Lyons up for a 25-foot slapshot.

This turned out to be the only scoring of the contest, with the third period marred by four penalties including a pair of majors.

Goaltenders Jeff Hubbell and Steve April split the net chores equally, combining for the team's sixth shutout.

Redman, Gurry Star

Three-goal "hat tricks" by Chuck Redman and Joe Gurry highlighted one of Andover's top offensive outbursts of the campaign, as Hampton, N.H. was swamped 9-0 at Merrimack.

Redman, the top scorer on the club, lifted his overall goal output to 18 and his point total to 30.

For Gurry it marked his first three goals since coming from the Bantam 'B' squad to replace injured Bob Daly just prior to the Canadian series.

Off-and-Running

Gurry, centering a line with left winger Kevin Sirois and right winger John Fahey, opened the scoring at 8:00 of the first period by deflecting home a blue-line slapper from the point by rear-guard Kevin Moore.

Defenseman Paul Derby made it 2-0 at 9:39, drilling home a 50-foot shot after set-up feeds by John Lyons and Lee Apgar.

Auspicious Return

The lone goal of the second stanza was by Alex Milne, who had missed several games with a broken bone in his hand.

Milne's seventh goal was an unassisted effort at 4:59, as he intercepted a clearing pass and stickhandled around several Hampton players before scoring from short range.

Volcanic Eruption

Andover produced a third period eruption that would have done Mount Vesuvius proud, slamming home six goals which included five within a six-minute span.

Redman initiated the deluge on 0:24, taking a pass from defenseman Bill Best at center ice and moving in to blast a 45-footer to the goaltender's right.

Redman boosted the lead to 5-0 at 5:09 with an unassisted tally, carrying the disc from his own blue to close range before flipping in his 17th red-lighter.

Gurry's second of the game at 6:49 made it 6-0. John Fahey started the play by digging the puck from the corner and skimming a pass out front. Gurry took control and rammed in a 10-footer.

A scant 25 seconds later Gurry had his hat trick, tapping the plug into the net after a scramble out front. Both Fahey and Sirois notched assists.

Lee Apgar interrupted the Garry-Redman show at 8:34, snapping a 15-footer into the twine following passes by John Lyons and Paul Derby.

Redman's 18th and third of the game capped things at 11:11. Keith Eosefow and Kevin Moore collected helpers on the 20-foot wrist connection.

Seventh Shutout

Hubbell and April again shared the cage chores, combining for a second straight shutout, the third in the last four games and seventh of the season.

Canadian Recap

A recap of the three-game series against Oshawa reveals that defenseman Joe Pasquale pocketed two goals in the three games. Singletons were added by Alex Milne (shortly before he fractured his finger), John Fahey, Kevin Moore and Keith Eosefow.

The 6-4 setback to Oshawa was the first loss ever by an Andover Bantam team against an Oshawa squad. In six seasons prior to the setback the record had been 23-0-1 including 20 straight wins.

"After leading 3-0 in the first game we started to take it too easy, and after the midpoint of the second period we became very disorganized," recalled Neal. "The disciplined play broke down completely and we scrambled from there to the end."

"In the second game (0-0 tie) we played much better positional hockey and had the better scoring chances," continued Neal. "The overall defense was excellent, especially Jeff Hubbell in goal."

"The final game was the best of the three (2-2)," added Neal. "We came up with a good two-way effort and much more drive. Hubbell played another strong game."

"Dave Farrell and Joe Gurry played well in all three games, while Paul Derby gave 100 per cent at center after being converted from defense to replace the injured Bob Daly."

"Keith Eosefow and Lee Apgar worked particularly hard in the third game, while defensemen Pasquale, Mike Cullinan, Bill Best and Kevin Moore were outstanding in games two and three," concluded Neal.

Schedule

Upcoming on the agenda for the Bantams is a Saturday afternoon game at Merrimack College against the Melrose Junior Reds. The opening faceoff is set for 12:30 p.m.

Andover West All Stars Advance In Tournament

The Andover West Stars playing in the 8th grade Division of the Wakefield-Reading Youth Basketball Invitational Tournament won their preliminary contest over St. Joseph's of Somerville 58-37, and followed that up by topping the Wakefield graders 43-34 in the quarterfinals this week. The team is being handled by Coaches Frank Monette and Don Terrion.

In the game against Somerville the West Stars were led by high scoring guard Joe Sydlowski who scored 18 points. Steve Serley who plays the guard position also chipped in with several assists and drove to the basket drawing many fouls on the Wakefield team and dropped in 3 points. T.J. Cavaney and Bob Kramer utility guard and forward respectively also did a fine job as Cavaney played the playmaker and stuck like glue on the Wakefield guard as the point man on the 1-2-2 defense. Kramer pulled down his share of points

In the 43-34 victory over Wakefield it was a superb effort by the Andover boys. Wakefield had just come away with the championship in the North Andover 8th Grade Tournament played in North Andover and the Andover boys knew this was a very aggressive team that played a double-teaming man to man defense, but in this contest the Andover Boys were not to be denied. They only allowed Wakefield to lead once in the game that was the first point scored in the game, but from then on the Andover Stars quick passing, fast-breaking game just about ran Wakefield off the court along with an excellent 1-2-2 zone defense that kept Wakefield's guards from penetrating and bottling up their big center Sydlowski who was kept scoreless in the first half. He did manage 12 points after Andover's forwards were in foul trouble, in the second half.

Coaches Monette and Terrion agreed it was one of the finest team efforts they have seen this year. Leading the team again was the steady leader of the team, guard Joe Terrion with 19 points and to add had the flu but refused to let it bother him during the game. Dan Hayes who played guard during the season for Andover 9th grade (eligible because of his birth date) had been switched to forward in this tourney and did an excellent job rebounding against taller players and zinged in 9 points in clutch situations that kept Andover's momentum going. Also doing a big job off the boards with a quick release to the fast breaking guards was Andover's small Center (A-la Dave Cowens lefty and all) Bob Zwicker who also banked in 8 points, south-paw style. Geoffrey Bragdon Andover's other forward who also has a good quick release of the ball off a rebound chipped in with some fine assists coming on the long pass variety while on the move and also added 4 points. Steve Serley who plays the guard position also chipped in with several assists and drove to the basket drawing many fouls on the Wakefield team and dropped in 3 points. T.J. Cavaney and Bob Kramer utility guard and forward respectively also did a fine job as Cavaney played the playmaker and stuck like glue on the Wakefield guard as the point man on the 1-2-2 defense. Kramer pulled down his share of rebounds while bottling up the lane on defense. Andover now will play in the semi-finals Friday night at 7:30 in the Reading Field House against the winner of the Lynnfield - Winchester game.

The Andover Shamrocks, Andover's 7th grade entry in the 7th grade Division also were winners, winning their preliminary game against St. Catherine's of Somerville by the count of 57-28 and did it without their high scoring guard Dave Farrell who was home with the flu. Dave was a guard for the 8th grade team this season but is eligible for this team because of his date of birth. Andover's center, Jim Arnold, played a superb game tossing in 18 points, followed by "Steady Eddie"

Collins 12 points, Tom Curtin 10 points and numerous assists. "Tall Todd" Orlando 7 points and key rebounds, and hustling - tuff defensive guard Dave Alexander 6 points, scrappy forward Frank Pelletier 4 points and Cokey Callahan who set up some fine plays for the guards.

The team is being coached by John Curtin and assisted by Frank Monette. The Andover Shamrocks who were known as the Andover Y All-Stars in the Somerville tournament will be facing St. Ann's of Wayland Friday evening at the Reading Field House with a 7:30 starting time. The Wayland team won the Somerville tournament and was the only team to beat Andover in the tournament as Andover finished in third place out of the 26 team Tourney so this will be a rematch and you can bet the Andover team will be ready to avenge that loss.

Ever wonder why a nightingale sings at night? A medieval story goes that the nightingale is afraid of snakes and keeps awake all night by pressing her breast against a thorn, singing mournfully because of the pain.

All Stars Finish In Third

The Andover-North Andover YMCA All-Star Basketball team coached by Frank Monette and Charlie Conlon won their consolation game recently over East Somerville 46-25 and finished third place out of the 26 teams that entered the Greater Boston Pre-Teen Tournament. The only team the local Stars lost to was St. Ann's of Wayland 44-37 who ended up champions of the tournament.

In the game with East Somerville the local Stars led in every quarter and substituted freely throughout the game as everyone played a good share of time. Ed Collins led the first quarter surge as Mike Costello took over in the second quarter, Jim Arnold spearheaded the third quarter and Paul Willis finished the fourth quarter barrage. The Stars led 9-5 after the first quarter, 19-13 at the half and 31-19 by the end of the third quarter. The team was led by Eddie Collins and Jimmy Arnold with 10 points apiece followed by Paul Willis with 8 points, Mike Costello 6 points, Tom Curtin and Todd Orlando 4 points each, Dave Forzese and Dave Nardone 2 points each and fine all-around play by Jim Grover, Will Washburn, Cokey Callahan, Terry Reilly, Kevin Bartolotta and Bob Patterson. Two members of the team who could not make the final game but chipped in with fine play during the Tournament were Bob Meier and Frank Pelletier.

Coach Monette stated the boys played very well as a team and the score was well balanced during the four games that stars played in. In the first contest 11 boys scored for the Locals as they topped Wakefield 42-19 with Eddie Collins tossing in the game high of 14 points. In the second game 9 boys scored as Dave Forzese led the club with 6 points in a 32-22 victory over St. Pauls of Malden.

In the Semi-Finals the Stars were beaten 44-37 by the Wayland Champs as Ed Collins scored 12 points and Mike Costello 11 points. In the final game 9 players again scored for the local stars who were led by Eddie Collins and Jim Arnolds 10 points and Paul Willis 8 points.

This marks the fourth straight year that the Andover YMCA Stars have participated in the Greater Boston Pre-Teen Tournament under Coaches Monette and Conlon and they have never finished lower than third place. In 1971 they won the championship.

Coach Monette said that this is the first time a combination of Andover and North Andover boys played together as a team and the relationship and working together was well worth the effort of bringing the boys together and thanks Coaches Joe Walsh and Noonie Costello of North Andover for their co-operation.

The boys were brought to see the Globetrotters and Celtics double-header by Coaches Monette, Conlon and Serley and were treated at Brighams by Mr. Orlando. Following is a total summary of scoring in the four games:

Player	FG-FT-PTS
Eddie Collins	17-6-40
Mike Costello	12-1-25
Jim Arnold	10-1-21
Paul Willis	8-0-16

J stands for justice. J also stands for jail.

Stubby, confident James Hoffa stepped out of a Cadillac at Phillips Academy Friday with a message for his adolescent audience -- there's no justice in jail. A prisoner doesn't get rehabilitation, just a stigma that takes away his chance to earn a living when he finally gets out. "It's worse than the worst

Hoffa Speaks At Academy

FORMER Teamster President Jimmy Hoffa, now campaigning for prison reform, addressed students at Phillips Academy last week. With him during his campus visit was Richard K. Gordon of Andover, who heads the New England Chapter of the National Association for Justice.

nightmare you could think of," the former Teamster boss told the PA boys and girls. "At a snap of a finger, for possession of marijuana or some other minor first offense, you could be sent to the nearest jail manacled, with leg irons on, in some parts of this country, stereotyped for the sole purpose of containerization, to be lumped together with hardened seasoned criminals -- repeaters, addicts."

Hoffa is ex-head of the powerful International Teamsters' Union, but he was speaking to the PA students as an ex-convict, and as president of the National Association for Justice, a recently formed prison reform group.

Hoffa was released in 1971 by President Nixon's executive act of clemency in mid-sentence, after serving 56 months in a Federal penitentiary for jury tampering and mail fraud; he was released on condition that he be barred from official Teamster office for ten years. Since then he has initiated and led the NAJ, "working to change the complex of punishment for the sake of the crime into rehabilitation for the sake of society," in Hoffa's own words. The NAJ seeks a policy of parole, probation and supervision for most first offenders.

With Hoffa at Phillips Academy Saturday was Richard K. Gordon, Andover's own articulate spokesman for prison reform. Following prison experience of his own, Gordon has spoken widely to church, civic and legislative groups, urging rehabilitation programs and other reforms in the prison system.

Gordon has just been named president of the newly formed New England Chapter of the National Association for Justice.

Jimmy Hoffa came to Boston last week to kick off the fledgling regional NAJ chapter, added visits to Walpole Prison and Phillips Academy, where Gordon's son is actively involved as a senior day student. Hoffa's talk and lively question and answer session in George Washington Hall was sponsored by young Dick Gordon's PA dormitory living group, Pine Knoll Cluster, for the whole school.

The students' questions were respectful but mostly sharp and informed. The jaunty ex-Teamster boss's answers were an extraordinary mixture of John Boone penal liberalism, hard-hat conservatism, pragmatism, plus some polysyllabic economic and labor movement theory, with a few references of Watergate characters thrown in. But Hoffa was completely consistent in condemning prevalent U.S. prison policies as unenlightened and ineffective, and condemning prison administrations as unenlightened and self-promoting. "The least you can do is to segregate hardened criminals. They are willing to trade a third of their lives to jail for what they at least say they gain from crime in the other two thirds of their life outside. And they sell that philosophy to other prisoners," and "I was in a prison with 2,000 in a building built for 900, this crowded population all controlled by guards who normally are misfits for society. A normal person rarely volunteers for serving eight hours a day behind bars."

Hoffa sounded like Massachusetts recently ousted Corrections Commissioner Boone as he recommended a reduction in the prison population through parole, probation and supervision. "California has closed four prisons and isn't even opening one of its newly built facilities. If it's true in California, why not export it elsewhere?" and "I believe an enlightened Congress, if ever there'll be such a thing, will eventually make it a constitutional violation, and cruel and unusual punishment, not to give the right to parole, probation and supervision before a jail term." Hoffa also wants equal sentencing in all states -- for example, a five year maximum for a first violation.

But on a capital punishment question, Hoffa was more hard-nosed. He'd keep it for "kidnappings, shooting the victim during a holdup, and premeditated murder." He agrees with Philadelphia Mayor Frank Rizzo that "capital punishment won't eliminate crime, but it will make sure that the same people won't repeat it." After someone's murdered once, he remarked, it's easier the second time.

On the pragmatic side, the convicted Teamster official hates stool pigeons, electronic bugging, the watered down conspiracy charge and immunity and plea-bargaining. "We're surrendering our freedoms as electronic equipment gets more sophisticated. We're surrendering them to bugging, stoolies and immunity. Young people must accept the basic concept of freedom to associate and behave in conformity with accepted norms of society, but not accept it through threats, pressure, intimidation and the fear that someone will turn them in and take away their right to make a living."

Turning economic theorist, Hoffa told the kids "Automation cybernation, (ed. note: automation plus computers) and consolidation already have cost this country a loss of $100,000 a week in losses, and another $100,000 in new plants that haven't opened, as a result. Reduced work weeks, early retirement -- if we fail to act, these are part of the basic problems you kids are going to live to regret."

How about Hoffa's early release from prison, a student asked. Was Nixon's act of clemency political? Was it motivated by the generous Teamster contributions to Nixon's re-election?

"500,000 of the Teamster rank and file signed petitions. There

Dear Neighbors:

We are the proud owners of 4.3 acres of land which is bordered by Route 93 on the East, the Knights of Columbus building on the North, Route 93 South-bound off ramp on the South, and Frontage Road on the West. It is quite a distance from any active residential property and we sincerely feel you would be pleased with our plans for this land.

A "Yes" Vote for Article 54 (as amended on the floor of Town Meeting) will allow us to build a beautiful small office building for ourselves with enough rental to offset our expenses. All details concerning this will be presented at the Town Meeting.

We sincerely feel this property, above any other in the Town of Andover, should be zoned for an Office Park, with a good size tax return to our Town and without any expense to you.

Above all we have spent a great deal of time looking for an ideal location and feel that what we have to offer this property and our Town, and what this property has to offer us in such a beautiful location, make it an ideal situation.

Please come to the Town Meeting -- Vote "Yes" for our change and let us live and work in Andover.

Very truly yours,

Jan & Ben Waters

Attendance

Attendance at Monday night's first session of the annual town meeting was disappointing to say the least.

When such numbers as 648 registered voters examining a potential annual budget of $16 million in what is termed true democracy, namely town meeting, one wonders if the system is really effective.

Curiously enough, we dare say that if there were a proposal before town meeting to change the form of government, to say, representative town meeting, the session would have been crammed with many more voters, no doubt, objecting to any alterations to their municipal operations.

Controversial items do not spice this year's warrant as much as in past years, but this still leaves no excuse for the sparse attendance, particularly on such matters as budget considerations.

This year, the town's administrators, we think, did an excellent job of budget work, doing their homework to the fullest and eliminating any frills in departmental monetary requests.

Prior to Monday night, the selectmen and finance committee were able to resolve many of their differences of opinion and presented a unified endorsement of most all items.

As for the voters who administer the final stamp of approval to the figures of which their tax rate will be composed, they weren't there.

There was the usual complement of regular town meeting attendees, those who view this annual exercise in democracy as a civic responsibility.

With at least two more sessions due before the annual business session is completed, we would hope that attendance will improve.

A year ago with decision due on such matters as resolving the dump issue, approving the entrance of Hewlett-Packard into the community, in addition to the annual budget, average attendance was in the vicinity of 1,400, a much more representative gathering.

There still remains in excess of $12 million in budget items as well as all the articles in the warrant to be decided upon when the meeting resumes on Monday.

We trust the response will be greater.

Junk Cars

About this time every year the building inspector, on orders of the selectmen, begins his rounds of the town looking for so-called junk cars.

The annual drive is conducted with twofold benefits.

First, of course, is the retention of a neat appearing community. The junk vehicles left in yards or vacant lots cast a less than attractive appearance for any community.

Second, the owners of such vehicles realize some savings along the way. Until such time as a vehicle no longer in use is officially removed from the tax rolls, the owner will be receiving a tax bill for same.

The process used by the building inspector in his annual visitation throughout the town, is an orderly one and is based somewhat on the assumption that violators of the bylaw which prohibits storage of non-useful vehicles, are unaware of the infraction.

The owner is sent a notice and provided sufficient time to have the junk vehicle removed.

As soon as the request is complied with, the assessors office is notified of the action and the item is removed from the tax rolls.

Failure to comply, within a considered reasonable time, or contact with the building inspector's office, results in the town filing for court action against the violator.

Basically this annual program is a simple check for compliance with the town bylaws which result in a more attractive Andover and, in most cases, a little unexpected cash benefits to those who comply.

Thanks

We would like to express a little appreciation to those voters who approved of a continuing of the mosquito control program for another year.

Success of the program to date of course can not be measured, but psychologically, if nothing else, it has appeared to help.

In the many months that have followed the first suggestion of some kind of program to abate the pesky little buzzards, there has been constant debate as to the effective value of spraying and larvaciding programs.

At one selectmen's meeting this past year, someone even offered an explanation of the aerodynamics of the mosquito, accompanied by wind factors.

As is generally the case offered by theorists, all sorts of explanations are fine, but the facts remain that the mosquitoes in Andover have been plentiful. Some relief was offered last year. Further is promised this year and the voters at prior town meetings provided funds for the program.

As for theories of the "skeeters" being blown from one town to another, their flight patterns, etc., we are bitingly aware that they are around and any relief is most welcome.

Off The Top Of The Desk

Knitting must be going out of style.

As a rule, Andover town meetings generally have many in attendance busily composing various items with busy needles as the business is transacted.

This year there was but one person spotted in the audience working away on some form of needlework.

Professional sports really went completely out of hand this week with the $3 million signing of Csonka, Kiick and Warfield of the Miami Dolphins by the Toronto club of the World Football league.

What makes the matter distressing is the fact that the fans will wind up shelling out the funds for these exorbitant receipts but television contracts result in the consumer paying more for various products which sponsor the games.

The defection from the NFL also waters down that league.

With the expansion leagues, such as the World Hockey Association and the American Basketball Association having financial and fan problems, there is every indication that the public is getting a little fed up with the high salaried players in sub-par competition.

In what strikes as a little women's lib in reverse, a decision was made at Providence College last week allowing girls to wash dishes there henceforth.

Up to last Thursday, girls were not allowed in the dishwashing room. An all-male college up to three years ago, the men had retained control of this particular activity in the dining room chores, for which the students are paid.

Last week, however, one of the co-eds was refused employment there and protested to the president of the college. Very Rev. Thomas R. Peterson, O.P. met the challenge and announced that as of Thursday, March 28, 1974, Providence College girls are allowed to wash dishes.

Champions join champions, could be the theme of the latest edition of "The Squire," the North Andover High school student publication.

Featured in the edition, of course, is the state championship basketball team. But the staff of the newspaper is also honored for their having won honors in "excellence in editorial writing" including a $1,000 scholarship at Suffolk University in Boston.

Editorial writers for the issues which won the awards were written by Mary Trombly, Rosemary Brien, Brian Steinberg, James Caron and Robert Ceplikas, the latter two, co-editors-in-chief of the paper.

Boston's Museum of Science announces a return to regular hours which had been curtailed since December to conserve energy.

Effective immediately, the Museum will be open Monday through Saturday 10 to 5, Friday night to 10, and Sunday, 11 to 5.

The previous early closing Monday through Thursday is no longer considered necessary in view of the government's relaxing of stringent energy restrictions and more availability of fuel.

The Museum will continue, however, to operate the heating and ventilating equipment in accordance with the FEO, which requires that temperature be maintained 10 degrees below previous setting and air-conditioned spaces no lower than 78 degrees. It will also retain several other measures adopted last fall to save energy.

Building and Grounds Superintendent Edward H. Konetchy estimates the measures effected a 35 per cent saving from October through February over the same period last year.

A statewide program designed to benefit the work of the Massachusetts Easter Seal Society will seek to raise and display two million pennies ($20,000), it was announced by Miss Beth Phinney, chairman of the Northeast regional effort.

Miss Phinney serves as a member of the Easter Seal Society's Northeastern Massachusetts Regional Youth Committee.

Called a Penny Sack Parade, the event is enlisting the support of high school and college level students who will collect the pennies in clear plastic sacks. Eventually, the pennies will be deposited into two-foot cube plexiglas containers and displayed at the North Shore Shopping Center, Peabody and the Burlington Mall.

According to Miss Phinney, "Each container when filled will hold approximately 250,000 pennies, weighing nearly one ton."

The committee is currently approaching schools in the area to obtain participation from the student bodies and individual Easter Seal volunteers.

Down the Years with The Townsman

75 Years Ago, April, 1899

The annual four day Andover Cricket Club fair opens in town hall today. The hall is attractively decorated and the spirit of unity among town organizations abounds. On hand for the opening the Andover brass band will provide for an auspicious opening at ceremonies tonight.

The move at town meeting this year to create an auditing department is a wise one. It was thought of a few years ago but never accepted.

An agent of the New England Beet Sugar Co. is to meet with local farmers at the Andover Grange tonight to tell of the plans to build a plant in Groveland which should prove beneficial to local growers.

The foundation for a steam laundry is being put in on the land to the rear of the Musgrove building. Hardy and Cole are to erect the building.

Co. L of the 8th Regiment is coming home and four local boys, John Smith, George F. and John Henderson and Raymond L. Buchanan will soon be with their families again.

50 Years Ago - April, 1924

The Punchard High School Girls basketball team wound up their season with 11 straight wins, closing out the year with a 40-32 win over Lowell High at Lowell Saturday night.

Rep. Charles E. Abbot says Punchard High School may legally charge admission to events at the playstead. He checked the legality at the state house after there was question since the board of public works has charge of caring for the fields.

The Punchard High School baseball team began practice this week under Coach Eugene V. Lovely and Captain John Souter. The team will work out at the cage at the academy for about a week before going outside.

Appointed Charles G. Gilliard as building inspector, Dr. Jeremiah J. Daly, town physician and Samuel P. Hulme, registrar of voters.

Teachers were granted a $200 increase in salary, provided they were on tenure by the school committee. It was the first increase since 1922.

25 Years Ago - April, 1949

Police are investigating a series of breaks in camps along the Shawsheen in Ballardvale and at Foster's Pond.

The Board of Public Works and Recreation Committee met at the Playstead Saturday to plan for the annual cleanup of the area, particularly the section where skating was allowed this winter.

Frank P. Markey was honored with a life membership in the American Legion at an anniversary program held in Memorial Auditorium.

Selectman Roy P. Hardy, J. Everett Collins and Sidney P. White vote to continue the policy of holding closed meetings. They will issue reports to the press periodically.

The school committee met this week for a discussion of the high school English program and approve the monthly warrant in the amount of $2,402.

10 Years Ago - April, 1964

Raytheon has been given permission to use 14.3 acres of land off Fleming Ave., as a parking lot.

Recreation Committee members James D. Doherty, Durwood Moody, Walter Pearson and Stephen Sarota submit their resignations to the town manager.

Building permits for March totalled $186,735.

Police to take action against youths loitering in the downtown area, particularly in the vicinity of "The Wall."

What Our Readers Say

To the Editor of the TOWNSMAN:

Frankly, I read your lead editorial of March 28, 1974 with anger and not amusement.

It is difficult to believe that your newspaper would condone clandestine school committee meetings, while admitting that they are illegal.

Are you seriously suggesting that disregard of the law is to be commended?

There are several prominent national figures in jail or on their way to jail for practicing a similar philosophy.

You are asking the taxpayers of Andover to abrogate their rights as citizens to a school committee who feels it cannot carry on its work in full view of the electorate.

As a concerned parent, citizen and taxpayer, I am dismayed.

The school committee was elected to represent us all. It cannot do its work behind closed doors.

The majority of the present committee was editorially supported by the Townsman. This is your right and your privilege. You have neither the right nor the privilege to condone unlawful activity on the part of elected officials.

I do not find your editorial AMUSING! it might better have been titled FRIGHTENING.

Barbara Harcastle

Andover

EDITOR'S NOTE: We regret the misinterpretation. We do not condone secret meetings. Our point was that such activity has happened in the past and we have been aware of 'clandestine' meetings.

To The Editor of The TOWNSMAN:

Andover held its annual town elections on March 4 and the facts on which candidates were elected were known the same day. However, three weeks later, we are still observing the school committee race being refought as to its definitive outcome. Using numbers as instruments, these people prove again and again that Dr. Griggs and Mr. Oleson have won their seats by an interesting type of default. Actually, these people weren't really elected to the offices they now hold, we have all these things like mandates and quotas and percentages that prove otherwise. I refer primarily to the most incorrect of all, former school committeeman William King's letter which appeared in the Andover Townsman on March 21. Mr. King has, by blithely snatching numbers out of thin air and placing things out of context, proved that Frank Griggs and George Oleson were soundly trounced on election day. Isn't modern math wonderful?

In eighth grade, I remember by history teacher repeating to us over and over how numbers could be used to say anything, to mean anything, however misleadingly. This man is now assistant principal at Andover High.

Let's now look at Mr. King's use of numbers. He writes - "Sixty per cent of those who bothered to vote amounts to about one-fourth of the registered voters. That is, one person in four favored the top vote getter."

Now, this implies at first sight, that one out of four voters in the whole town voted for or liked Dr.

Griggs. This would mean that three fourths of the town disliked or voted against Dr. Griggs, which must certainly be impossible since he was elected. Immediately, we say, hey something's wrong! It is Mr. King's use of numbers.

Election day in Andover was a beautiful, mild spring day - the weather had no effect on the vote not being strong. Still, turnout was very light and thus everyone complains that the results of the election are not conclusive.

Wrong again. Aprox. 43% of all eligible voters cast ballots. These are the people who cared enough about the issues to vote. By not voting, the other 57% of the eligible voters have nothing to do with any further statistics. Any statistical results and conclusions drawn from the election should only include the 43% who did vote.

Of these aprox. 5,130 people, who did vote, 3,622 voted for Frank Griggs, clearly better than sixty percent. Of the same 5,130, 3,082 voted for George Oleson, again sixty percent. In anyone's book, that is a clear majority. Griggs and Oleson were elected because the majority of those who voted, voted conservatively. We cannot make any statements about those who did not vote, because by passing up the opportunity to express themselves, they are no longer in our statistical consideration.

This same number 3,622 also represents about one fourth of all eligible registered voters. It could also represent the number of people in this town who brush with Crest. But to say that one person in four favored Dr. Griggs would be as ridiculous and as incorrect as saying that everyone who brushed with Crest voted for Dr. Griggs.

Mr. King should be more careful in his use of numbers and statistics instead of trying to mislead many people. One can do anything with numbers and make them say anything one wants, but it all boils down to facts.

The facts are that Dr. Griggs and Mr. Oleson have been elected to the school committee. The people who were concerned enough to vote elected them by large majorities.

The facts are also that ever since 1971, the majority of votes cast in a school committee election have been for candidates who were "conservatives". I will gladly prove this to anyone interested, using facts, not just numbers.

The fact is, we now have a school committee. The election's over, let's stop fighting about who won and why, but let's concentrate instead on working with the school committee we have to make a better educational system in Andover.

North Essex Open House Tonight

Northern Essex Community College, 100 Elliott St., Haverhill, will hold its second Open House on Admissions on Thursday evening, April 4, from 7-9 p.m. in the College Center.

The meetings give the community the chance to meet the Admissions staff and with faculty members from the various programs of study. Financial aid information is available and tours of the campus are provided.

During the second open house, information will be available on late admissions procedures for Associate Degree programs still open for the Fall, 1974 semester. These programs include the Liberal Arts program, programs in the Business and Technical areas, Engineering Science, and some programs in the Human Services and Allied Health areas. Data will also be available on innovations in approaches to study and new courses which will be offered at Northern Essex next fall.

Miss Cecilia Furlotte, Director of Admissions said that at this time of year many students who have not set study plans for one reason or another begin to become anxious about entrance into the college. "These students should come to the Open House," Miss Furlotte said.

Anthony Mangifesti, Cafeteria Director for the Andover Schools was informed by the Department of Nutrition that the supplementary funding for the Elderly Feeding Program has been discontinued until further notice.

For Those Of Us Who Are Older

Because state subsidy funds for the Hot Lunch Program have ceased, Andover's senior citizens will be required to pay seventy-five cents each day for their hot meal at East Junior High. But even at seventy-five cents, the food put out by our Andover School people and Tony Mangifesti, is a real bargain and a delicious one, too. Reservations for this program may be made by telephoning The Haven by two o'clock the day before you intend to go. The Hot Lunch program is open to all Andover residents over sixty.

The Monday evening swim at the Vocational School pool is becoming more popular. Every Monday from 6 p.m. to 7:30 p.m. the pool is open for free swimming for Andover's senior citizens. Come on in! The water's fine!

Thursday, April 4, Robert Finneran, Editor of the TOWNSMAN, will speak at The Haven at 2 p.m. All are invited.

Tuesday, April 9, the Recreation/Community Schools Dept. will sponsor an Easter Egg crafts project at 2 p.m. It is possible that this program will have to be held at Chestnut Court because of the expansion program at The Haven. Through the Vocational School carpentry department, stairs are being constructed to enable The Haven to use the lower level of its premises at 25 Barnard Street. Those interested in the Easter Egg project should make reservations at The Haven so that adequate materials will be on hand, but they should also call The Haven the day before to make sure whether the project will be at The Haven or Chestnut Court, because of the construction.

Making An Impression

Rhonda Perron

It is not very often that freshmen make a big impression on a College Varsity team. The "Rookies" usually come in a bit timid, and require a period of time to pick up the skills that college competition requires.

But, at Boston State College this past winter, the Perron twins, Randi and Rhonda of Andover, made a big impression on the Women's Gymnastic team, and with another Andover product, Captain Ann O'Reilly, this trio promises to do great things for the Warriors in years to come.

"I have been more than pleased with these three girls," commented Coach Maggie Pappalardo. "Ann has been a definite asset to our program over the past couple of years, and with the addition of the Perrons, I feel that the town of Andover will be very well represented at Boston State College."

Ann O'Reilly has really been an outstanding gymnast at Boston State. A Physical Education major, Ann was the high scorer on the team this past winter working on the balance beam, and in the past two seasons has been a real team leader. "Ann is a real joy to have on the team," said Coach Pappalardo. "She works very hard and helps out the other girls."

A real pleasant surprise for Coach Pappalardo this past season was the work of the Perrons. Both girls competed on the Bars and the Vaulting events, and were outstanding performers for the Warriors. "Like Ann, Rhonda and Randi were real workers," said Pappalardo, "both came to me with outstanding backgrounds from their high school coaching. As a matter of fact, Randi was the Captain and the senior year at Andover High." The Coach went on to say "both girls had real good technique and outstanding basic skills, and working with them has been a real pleasure." Looking towards next year, the Coach hopes that the Perrons will compete in the All-Around category.

Randi Perron

If there is one outstanding feature with these girls, observed Mrs. Pappalardo, a graduate of Indiana University, "is their attitude towards gymnastics. They all have a good basic understanding of the skills involved, and they work at it, and I feel that a lot of this comes from the background that they received at Andover. The program there has really prepared them for college competition." The Coach added "and if there are any other girls interested in Boston State Gymnastics, I would be more than happy to have them at Boston State."

Challenge Met By Donors

Governor Dummer Academy of Byfield, recently met a $100,000 challenge grant from the Edward E. Ford Foundation to be added to its endowment for faculty salaries.

Under the provisions of the grant, Governor Dummer had to equal the $100,000 in matching gifts from its alumni, parents, and friends. Twenty-five donors responded with a total of more than $101,000.

In announcing the successful completion of the gift, Headmaster John W. Ragle emphasized that "in this time of unpredictable costs for everyone, this most generous grant is quite timely. We are very grateful for the support which the Edward Ford Foundation and the donors who completed the matching gift have given."

Governor Dummer Academy, which is now a coeducational boarding and day school, was founded in 1763 as the first independent boarding school for boys in the United States.

Paintings On Exhibit

The Andover Gallery of Fine Art is currently presenting a one man show of the recent paintings of David Sullivan through April 20.

Mr. Sullivan, an Andover resident, is considered to be one of the most promising young artists in the country. He has exhibited his paintings and won prizes in several national showings, including the Wichita (Kansas) Centennial Exhibit, the new England Guild Invitational Exhibit, the National Academy of Design (N.Y.), and the All-California Exposition.

His works are of the contemporary realism school and are done in egg tempera, oil, watercolor, pastel and mixed media.

The Andover Gallery of Fine Art is located at 93 N. Main St., Andover, and is open Tuesday through Saturday from 9 to 5:30, Sunday from 2 to 5.

Mr. Sullivan resides on North Main St., Andover.

Hoffa

were 100,000 letters. You bet it was political. It was more expedient for him to leave Hoffa out of jail than to say "Drop dead" to all those people." Hoffa said he had brought suit against Nixon and against his ex-aide Charles Colson, who arranged the release, for the "prejudicial and discriminatory" nature of the ban on his Teamster activities. Hoffa attributes this to the client association of Colson with the present Teamster leadership - Fitzimmons, his former subordinate, wants to stay president. Hoffa also took a swipe at another former Nixon aide, Donald Segretti, the so-called "dirty trucks" expert. "He was released from prison after only 4½ months in a model prison. It's enough to disgust any young person who, for a little pot or a joy ride in someone's auto, can get two to five years."

Labor movement loyalties seem to run deep. When asked about United Mine ex-president Tony Boyle, accused of arranging the murder of his election rival, Yablonski, and his wife, Hoffa replied, "Tony Boyle is as innocent as you are." Hoffa and Fitzimmons may be rivals for the Teamster presidency, but Hoffa insists that his only disagreement now with his subordinate of 40 years standing is that Fitzimmons has decentralized the Teamsters, when labor needs to consolidate more, for power to deal with management. "The U.S. has 120 unions. It ought to be 30 or 40."

"Do you think it would be possible for labor to become too consolidated, too powerful for the balance of power between labor and management?"

That one really triggered off Jimmy Hoffa. "Look at the Chamber of Commerces.

Look at the National Association of Manufacturers. Why doesn't anyone complain when they're consolidated all across the country? What about the multiple-owned companies? We need more power to match the power of the employer. The big corporations are proud of the fact that they control the economic life of America!" Why are you worried about our consolidation and not theirs?"

In prison reform, Hoffa has a cause that could keep a man busy for years. He's done his homework, he has his facts. "Do you realize that 85 per cent of the prison population never had a steady job or earned $5,000 in one year?" But he limits himself to four speaking engagements a month so as not to over-expose too early, he says, he gets his healthy tan from dolphin fishing in Florida in between. The kids at P.A. get the feeling that he really cares about penal reform, and give him a good hand. But you also know, as that Cadillac pulls away from the curb, that he's never stopped caring about being president of the International Teamsters' Union for one minute.

Modes Of Communication Discussed

"Modes of Communication" was the theme of the evening when Pack 102 held its March meeting at the Bancroft school recently. Using voices, walkie-talkies and pencils and paper, the cubs found that it is not necessarily simple to send a message accurately through a number of people, and that the result can be both unexpected and humorous.

Dens 1, 3, and 4 then produced skits depicting mine flags, and television as possible methods of communication. Billy Coderre gave a talk on a visit to a radio station, and a most-travelled post-card competition was won by John Atanasoff, who wrote to a number of American Embassies and received a card from the embassy in Indonesia.

The meeting was co-ordinated by Frank Witt.

Abstract Paintings On Exhibit

An exhibition of recent works by leading abstract sculptor Michael Steiner opened March 22 at the Museum of Fine Arts and continues through April 28. Two of the monumental metal constructions on view in Gallery CC have never before been exhibited in the U.S.

The sculptures on exhibition span a four year period from 1970 to the present and represent the artist's recent 'elevated' period. Raised off the ground, Steiner's new pieces look like diagrammatic line drawings "filled with matter". Thick metal planes overlapping and tilting at various angles give his sculptures a feeling of open-ness and energy. They achieve expressiveness through the use of surface and edge.

Steiner works first in wood, to scale, then has the thick rectilinear slabs fabricated in corten steel. This technique allows him the freedom to manipulate his design while developing it and accounts for the clean, precise lines of the finished sculpture.

Although only 28 years old, Steiner represents an important alternative to Anthony Caro who has dominated the field of sculpture for the last decade. In the catalog published in conjunction with this exhibition, Kenworth Moffett, Curator of Contemporary Art at the Museum, traces the development of Steiner's work and discusses his role in contemporary art.

Home Gardening May Be A Popular Pastime

This will be a big year for home gardening, if the response to the free soil testing offer by the Massachusetts Department of Agriculture is any measure, the MDA reported last week. Samples came in to the state's exhibit at the New England Spring Flower Show almost faster than they could be handled, and now the soil testing lab at Waltham is working on a huge backlog.

Both the MDA and the Suburban Experiment Station at Waltham plead patience, promising results in the mail in two to three weeks. Further, they ask that you do not telephone for results. Samples are taken on a first come, first served basis, and all will be processed shortly.

California asparagus is plentiful on produce counters now, of excellent quality and reasonably priced, with some special sales offered. The crop precedes our own native asparagus harvest, which appears in early May.

Asparagus has very good nutritional value, and is an extremely versatile vegetable. It can be served hot or cold, with sauces, garnishes and various dressings. Fresh-cooked, it goes well with lemon butter or topped with a hollandaise sauce. Add diced, hard-boiled eggs to a medium white sauce to top boiled asparagus for a main or side dish. Or sprinkle it with crisp bacon bits for added flavor - or toasted, blanched almonds. It can be cooked, chilled and marinated, then topped with French dressing and snipped parsley. Asparagus and eggs provide plenty of vitamins as well as protein.

Iceberg lettuce is in heavy supply and most reasonable. Navel oranges are plentiful, and well priced. Carrots and turnips are also in very good supply.

On the meat counter, leg of lamb, ham and chickens are moderately priced. Chicken can usually be found on special sale.

If you find meat too high for your budget, remember that there's plenty of protein in milk, cheese, eggs and such crops as soybeans, chick peas, dried beans and peanuts. Combine cereals or vegetable foods with a little milk or cheese for balanced meals. Combinations like rice with fish, meatballs with spaghetti, meet all body needs.

Folk Dancing Scheduled

The Andover Recreation/Community Schools Department is again offering folk dancing on Tuesday evenings from 7:30-9:30 p.m. at West Jr. High School. Dorothy Christopher will be the coordinating teacher for the eighth-week term which will begin Tuesday, April 2.

A great deal of enthusiasm for this activity was generated in the winter term. Class participants who came from Andover and surrounding communities enjoyed a great variety of dances from many parts of the world. This is an activity which has no age limitation. The winter term included high school and college people as well as golden agers. Basic instruction is given each evening. No previous experience is necessary to enjoy this invigorating activity.

Beginners are especially welcome and participation is not limited to Andover residents. Registration for the spring folk dance term may be completed at the class on Tuesday evening or at the Recreation/Community Schools Department, Stowe Administration Building, 36 Bartlett St., Andover.

All American Rose

Here is the only hybrid tea to win a 1974 award and surely it should please just about everyone. Perfume Delight is an exquisitely formed, clear pink rose with such a rich tea fragrance it is actually startling when it strikes the nostrils, and a garden performance that is satisfactory just about everywhere that roses can be grown.

Of recent years there have been many complaints that the newer roses have lost the virtue of fragrance. Evidently the breeders have heeded the mounting criticism, as all three 1974 winners possess all the fragrance anyone would wish for, particularly this new hybrid tea.

The most desired type of hybrid tea bloom starts with a classic urn shaped bud and Perfume Delight will give complete satisfaction in this requirement, having long, pointed buds of rich, deep pink, gradually opening to a beautifully shaped, high centered flower of clearest pink.

This winner is a pink rose all the way from the outer tips of the petals, clear through to the heart of the bloom. The thirty petals have a thick, satiny texture and form roses some 5 inches across, usually on single stems.

Perfume Delight forms a vigorous well-branched, medium height plant, well clothed with large, leathery dark green foliage.

In all probability, Perfume Delight will develop into a favorite rose for cut flower arrangements as well as general garden use, particularly because its beauty is enhanced by the most outstanding fragrance of any rose now on the market.

Always plant this rose in the front of a bed, along a walk, or by an entrance where its beauty and magnificent perfume can be readily seen and appreciated.

This only hybrid tea 1974 winner is another in the increasing list of award winners of O.L. Weeks, rose breeder of Ontario, California. Perfume Delight is the result of crossing Peace with a complex hybrid (Happiness X Chrysler Imperial) X El Capitan. The rose has every right to its magnificent perfume as in its ancestry are to be found Charlotte Armstrong, Mirandy, Chrysler Imperial, Madam Butterfly, Joanna Hill, Crimson Glory, Rome Glory and Night, all deliciously fragrant and beautiful roses.

It is expected Perfume Delight will be in evidence in the coming years in gardens, as a cut flower favorite, and in competition on the tables of the rose shows.

Area Students Chosen For College Who's Who

Three area residents are among 31 juniors and seniors at Merrimack College, North Andover, who have been selected to appear in the 1973-74 edition of "Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges," it was announced by Rev. William J. Murray, O.S.A., vice-president for student affairs.

The area students are: Edward

P. Garon of North Andover; Miss Ann R. McGrahey and Frederick Neergaard of Andover.

The basic concept of "Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges" is to provide a democratic, national basis for recognition of outstanding campus leaders. The directory has appeared annually since 1934 and now includes listings from over 1000 colleges and universities in all fifty states, the District of Columbia, and several foreign nations in North and South America. Students represented in "Who's Who" are selected by committees on their campuses and are able to make use of reference and placement exclusively for members.

A Dean's list student and a Presidential Scholar, Edward P. Garon was the 1973-74 recipient of the $1500 Western Electric Co. Scholarship at Merrimack. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Demers, 7 Chapman Ave., Andover.

A senior Economics major who recently achieved a 4.00 average for the fall semester, Garon has served as a staff member of The Warrior the weekly student newspaper, and The Merrimack Review, the college literary publication. He has also contributed articles for Impact, the Alumni magazine of Merrimack College.

He plans to pursue graduate studies and aspires to a career as a managerial economist.

A 1968 graduate of Andover High School, Garon served in the U.S. Army in 1969 and 1970. He was awarded the Army Commendation Medal and the Bronze Star while serving in Vietnam.

A resident of North Andover, Garon is married to the former Patricia Bayliss. The Garons have one daughter, Lisa Marie.

Miss Ann R. McGrahey, the daughter of Prof. and Mrs. James McGrahey, 21 Enmore St., Andover, is a junior Chemistry major. A Dean's list student for five semesters, she has attained a 4.00 cumulative average at Merrimack. She is a member of the Benzene Ring, the student affiliate chapter of the American Chemical Society. She is also a member of Alpha Iota Delta, the campus tutoring society for fellow students.

A 1971 graduate of Our Lady of Nazareth Academy, Wakefield, Miss McGrahey aspires to a career in Medicine.

A junior Biology major, Frederick J. Neergaard is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick E. Neergaard, Summer St., Andover. He is a member of the Educational Policies Committee of the Academic Congress. He currently serves as station manager of WMMC, the campus radio station.

An advisor to the Class of 1977, Neergaard is co-chairman of the Commuter Council and the head usher at the S. Peter Volpe Athletic Complex. He is a 1971 graduate of Austin Preparatory School, Reading.

Dewy fresh, colorful flowers help to make the Easter season one of the most joyous of the year. Valentine Flowers at One Elm Street, opposite the Standex Bldg. in Andover, has a direct flower supply that enables them to offer the freshest flowers and plants in the area. Stop in at Valentine's when you are downtown and view the handsome displays in this friendly shop around the corner.

Be sure to order all Easter flowers as early as possible; this is a busy time for florists. Valentine's makes deliveries 2 and 3 times daily in Andover and Greater Lawrence, and they are also a member of F.T.D. This is a national flower service with over 11,000 members . . . which permits delivery of your floral gift anywhere in the U.S. or Canada with a simple phone call to Valentine Flowers.

Say "Happy Easter" to someone you love with a cheerful plant to be enjoyed now and for many months to come. Or choose from the traditional Easter lilies, fresh and blooming in a variety of sizes; daffodils; tulips; hyacinths; azaleas; hydrangeas and African violets, all attractively potted for gift-giving.

A colorful floral arrangement from Valentine Flowers always makes a welcome gift. Their experienced florists will make up a bouquet of the freshest flowers in a beautiful mixed arrangement or in flowers of your specific choice.

Another Easter suggestion is a corsage such as exquisite orchids in white or lavender or the pretty cymbidium orchids in white, pink, green, yellow and brown.

Recycling Committee Made Program Work

"Persistence, perseverance, keeping town officials informed about recycling ideas and opportunities, and well, just plain pushing us along" that's the town manager's assessment of the contributions of the town's Recycling Committee, which he appointed a year ago to coordinate the town's recycling program.

In its first year, the committee of five women and numbers of helping volunteers, divided into task forces, has publicized and explained recycling procedures to citizens, sought out new markets and better prices for recyclables, coordinated student recycling efforts, and developed some new recycling projects.

One of the new projects is a lucrative new collectible - corrugated cardboard. The Greater Lawrence Chamber of Commerce Retail Task Force is behind the new corrugated cardboard program from Andover merchants.

The town wide Municipal Recycling Auction on Saturday, April 27 at the Recreation Park is the latest project of the Recycling Committee. It has town hall blessing, since the idea is to sponsor a great spring cleaning collection of useful articles donated by everyone in town who has useful things no longer needed, then sell it at a carnival day of auction to the highest bidders, with all profits going into the town's Free Cash, used to reduce the tax rate. Wanted by the town are TV's, toys, games, appliances that work, furniture, kitchen, garden and household items, outgrown sports equipment, anything in good usable condition.

If you don't need it, and since you no longer can take it to the dump, save it for the auction; it's better conservation to donate it for auctioning (recycling) it to someone who needs it, than it is to discard it. And it helps the town tax rate, that's the Recycling Committee's philosophy.

How and when can you get useful items out of your home, attic, garage or cellar to donate them to the Municipal Auction? Bring them all to the Lodge at the Recreation Park a week before the Auction, on Saturday, April 20, from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Or bring them the following Wednesday, Thursday or Friday, April 24, 25, or 26, from 9 a.m. to 8 p.m. Town personnel will be there to receive them.

For pickup of articles you will be unable to bring to the Lodge at the Recreation Park, call John Lewis at Town Hall, 475-5864, or call 475-4618, beginning now, so that town pickup can be arranged. Then come to the Auction on Saturday, April 27, when the Recycling Auctioneers, Ralph Sharpe and Philip K. Allen will sell everything to the highest bidder, to benefit the town's Free Cash fund.

Mmes. Elaine Katz, Gail Armstrong, Lolly Sumberg, Alix Driscoll and Susan Dennett are the original members of the Recycling Committee, and their forces have grown. Mrs. Katz works with John Lewis of Town Hall to seek out new markets and the most favorable prices for recyclables. Lewis reports that the selling price for recyclables, particularly paper and cardboard, is constantly going up and contracts have to be renegotiated each month. The income from recycling, which began last July, now brings more cash into the Free Cash Fund than the town spends for collection of recyclables. According to Town Hall, a sizeable net profit can accrue to the town - if more townspeople (the other 50%) will only take the trouble to separate out newspapers, flattened cans and bottles, and set them out with the red bags, on the proper collection days. (But get them out by 7 a.m. or the night before, since Donald Craig's Industrial Services trucks usually come earlier than the red bag collection trucks.)

Corrugated cardboard is now extremely profitable. The town's merchants, not included in residential pickup, have been mobilized for corrugated cardboard recycling by the Task Force, under Charles Heseltine of Dana's Sport Shop and Paul Gmyrek of the shoe department of Elander & Swanton. Since driver Thomas Christopher has offered to pick up cardboard from the merchants as a service to the town, the $40 a ton for this material is clear saving for the town.

The subcommittee for organizations under the Recycling Committee's Mrs. Bloch has been meeting with each town organization to make a speech or announcement before each group - more citizen education, to promote and explain recycling. Mrs. Sumberg works on new recycling projects with the schools, along with Heather Moody of the high school, who takes one course at Phillips Academy and represents the ecology groups of both schools which now meet jointly.

Another Recycling subcommittee has members down at town hall stuffing recycling schedules into residents' water bills each month.

Andover has become one of Massachusetts' leading towns in recycling, reports Town Manager Austin, who attended a solid waste conference in Boston last week. While the town was not one of the pioneers on recycling, it may now be the only town which has a complete municipal pickup recycling program for all three of the most profitable recyclables - newspapers, glass and bottles.

Town Hall officials note a further benefit, as Merrimack Valley approaches a regional solid waste disposal program. Each town will have to pay by the ton for regional waste pickup and disposal. In half a year, Andover has already recycled 600-800 tons of material. When regional waste disposal comes, every ton of recycled material will be a ton of "trash" Andover will not have to pay the region to haul away and dispose of right now, Lewis predicts that "Andover's municipal trash collection contract can be renegotiated at a more attractive rate next year, because our town recycling program hauls away so much so-called trash, and sell it at a profit to the town."

Review:

"The Real Inspector Hound"

It's been seven years since a Stoppard Production stirred American audiences. The sabbatical is over. Lucky Tom, his 1967-1968 "Rosencrantz and Guildenstern Are Dead" won the Tony and Drama Critics' Award for Best Play. And Americans are gabbing over the cocktail hours about his wit, involvement and confusion as they view "The Real Inspector Hound" and lucky Washingtonians watch "Jumpers" produced as this play was by the Kennedy Center Production, and now on the D.C. stage.

No ordinary writer, this lad. Mark him down for ambiguity, drollness, wit, pun and hamming.

Robert Vaughan, of "The Man from U.N.C.L.E." fame is the National Tour star of this play. He revels in it. And we revel in watching him.

Vaughan plays a second-string critic, "Moon." He is at a play. A fellow-reviewer, Michael Egan as "Birdfoot" sits next to him. They share thoughts and candy. Meanwhile on stage in the most high-handed acting we see the Lady of Muldoon House, her maid, tennis partner, Guest, and local mad-man act out the most pretentious, pompous satire of an English, murder-mystery complete with an Inspector - seen this side of the Atlantic. The cast outshines Agatha Christie's "Ten Little Indians." The audience roared at the heavy stylization and mugging.

Opening night critics from the newspapers and television stations - were the focus of attention as well, since the plot deals with their craft. They were in for some punning and fun, as Moon and Birdfoot analyzed the play, with cliches now so well known.

An excellent cast in this play fill a marvelous set by William Ritman. No stranger to English town-houses he previously was nominated for a Tony award for his lighting design for "Sleuth."

It's a tight little evening - two British plays and out by ten. If perchance you were an Exeter fan twenty years back and couldn't get enough Alec Guinness - then this is your graduate course follow-up. Go and be refreshed. Stoppard's the center of of theatre talk again, across the country. At the Colonial through April 13.

are you chicken
about putting all your eggs in one basket

Some property owners get the deep horrors about listing their property exclusively with one broker. They have visions of him fleeing to a vacation in the Sunny South, leaving them out in the cold, out of touch with the Real Estate market.

Can such a thing happen? Not if you're a Victor customer. We work as a team. Although we like the warmer climate as much as the next man, we don't depart en masse. A team member is always working in your behalf. Does it mean we're the only company actively interested in you? No. Once listed with us your property needs and objectives are publicized to a wide group of brokers. They work with us to get immediate action and results for you.

When you put all your eggs in the exclusive* Victor basket, things begin to happen. Try us and see.

* All our "Exclusive Listings" are put into "Multiple Listing Service" at once.

League Issues Support Positions On Warrant

The League of Women Voters will support 9 articles and oppose 2 articles on the April Town Meeting warrant.

According to Nancy Mulvey, league president, the decisions to support or oppose articles are made by the League only in those areas that have been previously studied and approved by the members.

The League will support the following articles:

Article 25 and Article 61 - conservation purchases off Jenkins Road and off Lucerne Drive. The League supports an active open space land acquisition program in Andover.

Article 31 - Pumps Pond development and Articles 32 - repair of tennis courts. The League has a long-standing position favoring the development of public recreational facilities.

Article 15 - rezoning on Central St. and Article 33 - rezoning on North Main St. The League believes these rezoning articles will encourage a high standard of commercial development in Andover. Article 15 will further strengthen the central business district while Article 33 will give the town more control over the future development of the Harding - North Main St. area.

Article 69 - flood plain zoning. This change in the zoning bylaws will give the town some control over future building on the flood plains of the Merrimack and Shawsheen Rivers. Although it does not prohibit building in the designated flood plain, it will require construction to meet certain requirements. Support of this article is in accordance with the League's national policies and procedures which promote comprehensive long-range planning for the management of water resources.

Article 43 - finance committee reports. The League of Women Voters believes that democratic government depends upon the informed and active participation of its citizens. These reports are a valuable aid to those attending town meetings, can save time in presentation, and are therefore a justifiable expense.

Article 45 - sanitary sewer. The League supports measures to improve water quality. The Ballardvale Sewerage Treatment Plant is presently the prime source of pollution to the Shawsheen River in Andover.

The League opposes the following articles:

Article 46 - amending the zoning bylaw for tennis clubs. The League feels that this article will not maintain the control of zoning necessary to insure a high standard of commercial development.

Article 54 - rezoning on Frontage Road. This change would adversely affect the residential character of the neighborhood. There is already a sufficient amount of industrially-zoned land available in Andover.

Rabies Clinics Scheduled

Dr. Robert A. Walsh, chairman, Andover Board of Health announces that the Board of Health will sponsor an animal rabies clinic to be operated by Dr. Richard D. Lindsay, Animal Inspector.

The clinic will be held in the East Jr. High School Shop Area between 8:30 a.m. and 12 noon on April 6, and again on April 13.

Sailing

permission is the placing of the new water treatment plant into service.

Testing of the system and putting it on line is expected to take about six months.

During that time, the proponents of the sailing proposal expect to officially introduce their plan to the selectmen, who will be asked to rule on the possibility of using the pond for such activity.

DPW Director McQuade, asked about the possibility, said he was definitely opposed and felt the state regulations would prohibit such activity.

McQuade cites the fact that Haggett's is a public drinking water supply as being an overriding factor in the decision at both the local and state level.

He points out there are sufficient opportunities on ponds in nearby towns on which sailboating is allowed. Also, McQuade says, Pumps could be used.

The DPW director commented on the fact that as a representative of a consulting firm, Camp, Dresser and McKee, prior to his coming to his present position, he had recommended against sailboat permission for a lake in New Hampshire. The selectmen there rejected the recommendation and shortly after the permission was granted, there was an outbreak of illness directly related to the water supply.

McQuade states that regardless of how much protection and regulation is promised by the proponents there is too much danger of pollutants entering the public water supply through such recreational activity.

Bible School Scheduled

Andover Baptist Church will hold its annual Vacation Bible School for anyone in the community between the ages of 4 and 12 from June 24 to 30. Sessions will be held from 9:30 a.m. to noon and will use an undenominational program published by the Gospel Light Publishing Company of Glendale, California with songs, stories, Bible studies and crafts.

The director of the school is Mrs. Charles Towne assisted by a large staff of teachers and other workers.

In past years, nearly every church in Andover has been represented by children.

Pre-registration of pupils will be made early in June and advanced notice will be given.
